

THINGS TO DO

1. Screen on the Green: 'Dinosaur' and 'Jurassic Park' plus Guinness World Record attempt

This Screen on the Green promises to be dino-mite with a double feature of "Dinosaur" and "Jurassic Park." But before the opening credits roll, join COX Science Center as they attempt to break the Guinness World Record for the "Largest Gathering of People Dressed as Dinosaurs." Visit CoxScienceCenter.org/event/300-dinos for more information. Then kick back on the Great Lawn and watch these great dino-themed flicks.

The event is 6:30 to 10 p.m. Friday, Jan. 10. 100 N. Clematis St., West Palm Beach. Free. Information: coxsciencecenter.org/event/300-dinos;

2. Full Moon Canoe at Grassy Waters Preserve

See the subtle changes that occur as the sun sets over the marsh, and then paddle under the glow of a full moon. Listen and look as nocturnal creatures start their "day." Not for beginners. Sign up with a partner, canoes require two paddlers.

The event is 4 to 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 11. 8264 Northlake Blvd., West Palm Beach. $20. Space limited. Reservations required. Information: 561-804-4985

3. The Symphonia presents Concert II

Part of their 20th anniversary season, the concert at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church will feature conductor James Judd and Grammy-winning guitar soloist Jason Vieaux. The program will include Richard Danielpour's "Souvenirs," Samuel Zyman's "Concerto for Guitar & String Orchestra," and Beethoven's Symphony No. 7.

The concert is 3 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 12. 100 NE Mizner Blvd., Boca Raton. $55. Information: 561-376-3848; thesymphonia.org

4. Downtown Delray Beach Festival of the Arts

Consistently ranked one of the best art shows in the United States, this juried art festival of hand-crafted artwork includes glass, photography, painting, mixed media, fiber, jewelry and much more.
